Richmond is to be congratulated on the excellent course of high-class entertainments that her people will enjoy during the coming season. It has also been said that Richmond would not support such a that Richmond would not support such a course as the Richmond Public Lycoum is to present, but experience has proven otherwise. The public-spirited citizens who started this movement a few weeks ago have succeeded beyond their expectations. Several of the entertainments have already been decided upon, and they reflect credit upon the taste of the Executive Committee of the Lycoum.

The first celebrity which the committee attempted to secure was the world-removed Anthony Hope. His works cover and Amsterdam Galleries—Dutch and Flemish Schools." The fact that Mr. Fagan resigned his position with a salary of $10,000 a year in order to take the lecture platform is a sufficient guarantee of the high order of talent he possesses.

LIEUTENANT R. E. Peary, of the United States navy, was the most successful explorer of any age. He graphically describes his experiences near the North Pole while on his trip of 1,500 miles across the Greenland lee-caps. His lecture is illustrated by magnificent inner views, and is the most fascinating story of daring attempt, thrilling adventures and magnificent accomplishment ever told from the platform.

Hamilton W. Mable, essaylst, critic and orator, is one of the most popular of all the American lecturers. Among his subjects are "Books and Business," "American Society and Literature," "Literature as a Personal Resouwe," "Dr. Johnson

The other attractions have not yet been engaged. The committee will decide upon them later. The entertainments will be held in the Academy of Music. The members of the Lyccum who have paid their annual membership fee of $5 were last night assigned reserved scats in the order in which their names were enrolled. About 20 members were given scats.

ORIGIN OF THE MOVEMENT.

The movement to establish a Public Lyceum was started and the organization founded by Hon. Henry Watterson, of Kentucky; General. John B. Gordon, of Georgia; Hon. William L. Middleton, the secretary and treasurer, has done a large part of the work, and created a great deal of the interest in various cities by explaining the object and the results of the scheme.

ENCOURAGE SOUTHERN TALENT.

Despite the strong counter attractions of rough-riders and cowboys, and the dog show, there were probably 250 people out to see the foot-ball game between the local college eleven and that representing the Randolph-Macon College of Ashland. A number of laddes graced the grandstand, and about 250 howling, shrieking college boys, representing the two colleges, were very much in evidence.

The attack on the old stage coach by the dusky redskins in the Buffalo Bill show was a mild performance as compared to the attacks one on the other of the two college clubs. A number of the students bit the dust temporarily, and one of them. Captain Dolly, of the visiting eleven, had his hip dislocated in a pile up, and was carried from the battle-field in considerable pain.

EVENLY MATCHED.

So far as relative sidil and strength goes, the two teams are very nearly equal, and another contest is really necessary to determine which is the better fitted to carry off the palm. Both sides worked and fought hard for supremacy and while the score gives the game to the local eleven the actual work would put the game at a stiff tie.

As well as the game was played, there was entirely too much slugging, and the boys were too slow in regaining their game at a stiff tie.

As well as the game was played, there was entirely too much slugging, and the bors were too slow in regaining their feet on a down, thus putting the under man in danger of injury or even life. Another fact that the management should look after is that of the spectators crowding down along the line. The field should be kept entirely clear of spectators.

THE FIRST HALF:

The first half was one of twenty minutes. The visitors kicked off and the ball was collared by Lankford, who made the slight gain of two yards on the rush. In the first down he gained three more by sprinting around the end, and then Lee gained five yards, and by successive rushes the ball was advanced sixteen yards, and then on a fumble by Kaufman three yards was lost, which was gained, however, in the mext scrimmage. No advance could be made in the next three downs and the hall went to Randolph-Magon, and on successive downs twenty-eight yards was gained by several splendid rushes. Then the ball was lost and went to the locals, who gained five yards on the first snap. Two yards was lost on the next, however, and Dolly captured the pigskin for a cut around the end for twenty yards, following it up by another sprint for ten, but this latter was not allowed by whistle before the ball was placed in play.

THE SECOND HALF.

Daughtry kinked off to the twenty-yard line to Lawson, who gained live yards and Hayden followed with five more, but a center rush proved bud and only one yard was gained. On the next snap a fumble was made and no gain resulted, but the ball was advanced six yards before the locals captured it, and Lankford put it through the centre for eight yards, following it up with two more. In the next rush Johnson cleverly tackled Lankford, and the latter lost three yards in attempting to work the end. This was recovered, however, on the next snap.

At this point bolly was injured and carried from the field, Darden taking his place. No gain was made by the locals and the ball went to the visitors with no cain on the first down. Then five yards

Fraser and Lankford advanced twenty-two vards, although Hayden tackled splendidly. In the next snap Fraser gained three yards through the center, which now seemed to be the objective point of the locals, and in the following scrimmage, Lankford gained six yards. Hayden was temporarily knocked out, but pluckly remained in the game. Fraser gained twelve yards and was downed by Johnson, and then another gain of four was made through the center by Lankford. In the next play the locals lost two yards by the tackling by Ross, but McNeill made a gain of five yards and followed it up with six more through the center.
The visitors then caucht the ball and Meadows, the Prohibition candidate for the Senate, will doubtless receive nearly all the Populists' votes and a majority of the Republican vote. If James is elected it will be by a small majority.

It is quite certain that the Democrats will elect two of their nominees for the lower house, and probably all four of them, though Cocke and Berger, who are on the Populist ticket, will make the race interesting.

Both of these gentlemen were elected on this ticket two years age. The seat of the latter was contested, however, by Mr. J. I. White, who was successful, and Mr. Berger was sent back home.

More than two hundred people went from Chatham to Lynchburg Wednesday to the fair and to see Buffalo Bill's show. Edward Hankins, who is to be hanged the 11th of November for the murder of Dr. Cabell, continues to pursue the course of remaining silent and refusing to be interviewed. Rev. T. A. Hall, of the Baptist church, administers to his spiritual needs, and he, with several other ministers who have called, are the only ones whom Hankins allows to visit his cell. It is said that he will make a statement when his wife comes to see him again. The execution will take place inside of the fail, in the large front room, where the negro, Jed. Pritchett, was hanged in 1889.

The League is now entering its third year and numbers several hundred riders in its ranks.

It is not a social organization at all, but has for its aim the securing and protection of wheelmen's rights on the highs way, the advancement of the cause of good roads and streets, and the welfare of the riding class generally.

It was organized two years ago for these furposes at a time when there was great likelihood of ordinances being passed detrimental to wheelmen, and succeeded in having ordinances amended as to be acceptable alike to riders and pedestrians. Its members also were largely instrumental in securing and maintaining the Missing-Link' track, which has proved such a boon to Richmond cyclists.

The work of the League is promoted by a board of officers elected annually, and it is to hear the reports of these and to elect officers for the ensuing year that the meeting is to be hold to-morrow night. The reports of these and to elect officers for the League or not, are requested to attend.
